

ALIGN Well-Being Toolkit and Impact Portal Launching May 29th!

"It represents an important shift from 'how do we deal with this problem' to 'how do we foster health, healing and wholeness' in our youth and staff" - Agency staff about the Toolkit

Assess well-being and share your agency's impact with:

- Toolkit: Practice-oriented and flexible
- Indicators: over 400 indicators based in lived experience, research, and practice
- Impact Portal: share and track your impact through stories and self-rating
- Impact Dashboard: view your agency's impact over time and a provincial summary of impact across the sector
- Community of practice: share experiences, stories, and support.
- Common language: for well-being domains and principles for assessing well-being
- More information here and here

Be inspired by stories from the Toolkit Pilot Group

Over the past three months, a group of diverse agencies piloted the ALIGN Well-Being Toolkit and brainstormed how the toolkit could support their agency's plans and priorities.

Big shout out for sharing their experiences and ideas to Miskanawah (Calgary), the Multicultural Health Brokers Co-op (Edmonton), McMan South, Hull Services (Calgary), Rainbow Literacy and Learning Society (Vulcan), The Village Mackenzie Family Resource Network (High Level), WJS (Red Deer), Bent Arrow Traditional Healing Society (Edmonton).

Stay tuned for stories, reflections, and inspirations from each of the pilot group members in an e-blast every month through 2024.
